Hello dear Dr. Mark Cielieba,
hi dear swisstext team.

I am a machine learning researcher from Germany working at Deutsche Telekom. We are doing a lot of open-source work in the area of natural language processing. I am building machine learning systems that are able to generate summaries of large texts (summarization). To do this I need training data and would like to use the swisstext dataset.

We are using permissive software licenses like MIT. I can not find if the swisstext dataset is released with a certain license. I would like to ask for the explicit permission to release the resulting summarization model with an MIT license.

I would be very happy about a positive feedback. Should there be any questions I can gladly help to clarify.

Many thanks
Philip

Dear Philip,

thanks for your message.
Dominik Frefel (in CC) is your contact for questions regarding the summarisation datasets.

Best wishes,
Manuela

Dear Philip,

You have our permission to use the Swisstext dataset and release the resulting summarization model under MIT.

Best regards,

Dominik Frefel

Hi Dominik,

many thanks for this positive message.

Is it ok when I convert this mail conversation into an PDF and add it to my release? So ppl. know that everything is ok from license perspective.

Best,
Philip

Hello Philip

You're welcome. Yes it is ok if you convert our conversation into PDF and add it to your release.

Best regards,

Dominik
